

A black and white photograph of a woman with dark hair, wearing a herringbone jacket, sitting at a desk. She is looking intently at a large technical drawing or map she is holding. The drawing shows a grid with various data points and lines. In the background, there is a bulletin board with several papers pinned to it, and a window with light streaming in. The overall atmosphere is professional and focused.

I thrive in this world.

"Osum has a team of talented people who all have the experience to know what is required to bring our ideas to action. The Company is striving to balance oil sands development that is both economically and environmentally favorable. We move fast – we are lean on process and can move quickly to take advantage of opportunities. Scientific curiosity is encouraged. My contributions are valued. My actions are rewarded. I thrive in this world."
Jen Russel-Houston (Manager, Geosciences)

A black and white photograph of a man with glasses and a striped shirt sitting at a desk. He is looking down at a large stack of papers in front of him. The desk is cluttered with various documents and folders. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

WARMTH
PER CAPITA IS DEFINITELY
HIGHER HERE
THAN IN A LARGER
COMPANY

Jian-Yang Juan
(Principal EOR Advisor)

“The people at Osum are dedicated, experienced and intelligent. We come from diverse backgrounds but have formed a team that is committed to a common purpose. We enjoy working with each other and we care for each other.”

Bruce Thornton (Manager, Development & Regulatory)

As a newcomer to Osum, here are some of the things I like

- We're growing – it is a very positive environment
- The people here are great to work with – brilliant but don't take themselves too seriously
- We're selective – only the best get hired here
- We're as formal as we need to be – no bureaucracy
- Not being downtown
- The 'fully appointed' kitchen so I can make my own lunch or breakfast
- I can make a difference

Heather Screamon (Director, Human Resources)

Lunch

(random thoughts from members of our team)

“Niko’s for sit down...Peppino’s for take out!”

“Lunch is a great time to lace-up the sneakers and hit the paths. The loop that heads west to the Crowchild pedestrian path is about 5 km and a perfect short run distance. If time permits, you can add a few loops through the woods on the south side of the river in Edworthy Park – there are times on this trail that it is hard to believe you are in the city limits.”

“If you could have someone else pay for it, Osteria is the best - not because G.W. Bush visited once, but the quality of the food. Otherwise, my preferred place is Niko, the sausage is perfecto.”

“They always have great sushi at Sushi10.”

“One of my favourite restaurants is the Broken Plate – I love the Skouras. I also like the Vietnam Fortune. I’ve been going there for years and have never been disappointed!”